Peace, Global Citizenship & Partnerships

Restoring the land, connecting communities, inspiring the world.

Peace begins where people come together to care for the places they share. Guided by the legacy of Bishop Cornelius Korir, this pillar turns environmental action into a bridge: between neighbours, between faiths, and between Eldoret and the wider world. When local hands restore the land and global friends stand beside them, a city can become a living example of what peace looks like in practice.

Our Vision in Action

Bishop Korir Peace & Social Cohesion Initiative

Young people leading the way. Through clean-up drives, interfaith collaboration, and open community dialogue, we are uniting people of every background around one shared dream: Eldoret as a City of Peace.

Korir Peace Parks & Shared Spaces

Riversides and public grounds reborn as safe, beautiful places for everyone. These are spaces where neighbors meet, children play, and communities learn and celebrate side by side.

Cultural Exchange & Intercultural Learning

Youth, schools, and faith communities sharing stories, traditions, and practical ideas. Through every exchange, we learn from one another how to protect our environment and build lasting understanding.

Sister Cities & International Cooperation

Lasting friendships between Eldoret and cities across the globe, growing into partnerships in education, culture, sustainability, and youth innovation that benefit all who take part.

Global Citizenship & Youth Leadership

Preparing a generation of confident young leaders who carry Eldoret's solutions to the world, bring the world's best ideas home, and prove that change in one community can inspire many.
